NEW ORLEANS RACE TRACK.
Dec. 15.—The card to-day was the best of the week, if not of the meeting, the promise of fair weather being responsible for the better class of entries. The crowd, too, was the best in many days, and the sport was good.

Sam Hildreth, who recently bought out the Schorr string, had an entry in each race, and at least three of his starters were first choices. The handicappers had a hard time of it with the fourth race, the best one of the day, and every horse was well played.

There was a noticeable improvement in the sport, due in a great measure to the prompt action of the stewards in the Hicks case. The sweeping decision rendered has had a tendency to frighten unscrupulous horsemen and pliable riders, and the races to-day were characterized by energetic riding on more than one horse that was evidently sent to the post for an airing last time out. The track was still soft in spots, and the best going was on the inner rail, but there was room here for only one horse. However, there was a dry path in the middle of the track through the stretch, and several horses made up an amazing amount of ground by taking that route.

FIRST RACE.
Six furlongs; for two-year-olds; selling.

Starters, white, jocks. S. H. H. Fin. Str. Place.
Marco, 105, Fuller, 8 1/2 15 15 5-5
Irene Mae, 100, Cannon, 2 24 25 15-5
Candreen, 100, Seely, 3 24 25 15-5

Marco was much the best. Irene Mae just lasted long enough to beat Candreen, a well-played good thing, for the place.

SECOND RACE.
For three-year-olds and up; selling; six furlongs.

Starters, white, jocks. S. H. H. Fin. Str. Place.
Andes, 100, Fuller, 8 1/2 15 15 5-5

Alma, 97, McCaffrey, 4 2 15 3-1

Andes was best. Summer should have been second. He had the rail and his rider lost ground by swinging into the middle of the track when Harry Wilson overhauled him.

THIRD RACE.

Starters, white, jocks. S. H. H. Fin. Str. Place.

THE GENTLE GAME OF HOCKEY, BY HAYDON JONES.

WHY "JEFF" HASN'T ANSWERED CORBETT

Champion Says Jim Wants to Divide Purse on 50 Per Cent. Basis, but Latter Denies It.

The days of splitting purses, as far as Champion Jim Jeffries is concerned, are over. The ex-brother-maker says he will never again agree to an even division of the purse with a pugilist. The statement is an answer to the deft hurled at Jeffries by Jim Corbett for a battle for the world's championship. Jeffries says Corbett wants him to split the purse money in their bout, and that that was the reason he has waited before answering.

"The only way a match with Corbett can be arranged is for him to consent to fight me on the basis of 60-2-3 per cent. to the winner and 31-3 per cent. to the loser. If Corbett agrees to those terms I will fight him."

Corbett Denies Story.

When Corbett was informed of Jeffries' announcement he said: "Jim Jeffries is a liar if he says that I have decided to split the purse with him. I have simply named no conditions about the division of the purse."

Choyinski's Latest Match.

Joe Choyinski, the California heavy-weight, who recently defeated Frank Childs, the colored fighter, of Chicago, has been matched to fight Morgan Williams, the middle-weight, of Denver, who recently put Jimmy Handier to sleep in five rounds. They will meet in a twenty-round bout at Cripple Creek, Col., during the first week in January. Choyinski will weigh about fifteen pounds more than Williams. The sporting men of Cripple Creek intend betting heavily on Williams to beat Choyinski.

McPadden-McClelland To-Fight.

What promises a good fight between feather-weights is slated for to-night. The California champion, McPadden, of South Brooklyn, and Jack McClelland, of Pittsburgh. They will meet in a twenty-round bout before the West End Athletic Club, of St. Louis. They should put up a fast and interesting battle.

Handier Fights To-Night.

Jimmy Handier, the Newark middle-weight, is in Chicago, where he will meet Jack Hogan, the Chicago middle-weight, in a six-round bout before the Apollo Athletic Club, of Chicago, to-night. Hogan is a newcomer in the business. If successful Handier will be matched with Tommy West, and the bout will be decided before the America Athletic Club, of the Windy City, within three weeks.

Joe Gans Going Abroad.

The failure of Joe Gans to induce Jimmy Britt, the Avonia, Pa., flyweight, to meet him in a twenty-round bout for the light-weight championship of the world, has discouraged the clever colored boxer and he will take a trip to England next year and endeavor to get on matches. Gans says he can beat either "Coney" McPadden, of South Brooklyn, or Jack McClelland, of Pittsburgh, and the latter would make a side bet of $1,000 to $2,500 in every fight. Gans will leave for England about the first week in February.

Benny Yanger, of Chicago, who meets Tim Callahan, of Philadelphia, in a six-round bout before the America A. C., of Chicago, to-morrow night, will challenge the winner of the "Corbett" and McGovern fight at the ring side to-night. Yanger says he can beat either "Coney" McPadden, of South Brooklyn, or Jack McClelland, of Pittsburgh, and the latter would make a side bet of $1,000 to $2,500 in every fight. Gans will leave for England about the first week in February.

Yanger will start for San Francisco in a few days, where he has been matched to fight one of the best feather-weights in that part of the country. The bout will be decided before the Acme A. C., of Oakland, Cal., during the second week in January. Tony Irwin, the "Prize" fighter, who has been doing some good work on the coast lately and who recently fought a fifteen-round draw with Billy Gardner, of Lowell, Mass., will probably be selected to fight Yanger.

Another finish fight is to be decided in private near Westchester. The principals will be Jimmy Kelly, the east side feather-weight, and Eugene McCarthy, the Bronx, W. M. flyweight. Kelly knocked out Eddie Johnson in six rounds in "Constitution" fight with small gloves for a side bet of $100.

Jack Lowery, the feather-weight fighter, and "Chick" Tucker, who has numerous victories to his credit, will have a five-round bout before the Pastime A. C., of New Britain, Conn., to-night. They will fight at 125 pounds. The winner will be matched to fight Austin Rice or Jimmy Briggs.

Joe Bernstein, the east side feather-weight, who is to box Jimmy Briggs, of Chelsea, to-night, will leave for the New England city this afternoon. He will be accompanied by his manager, Charles Moran.

At the annual meeting of the Long Island Automobile Club officers and a Board of Governors were chosen for the ensuing year. The officers were: L. R. Adams, President; L. Adams, Vice-President; Reid Holaday, Secretary; Edward Adams, Treasurer; J. H. Hollander, Dr. Nathaniel Robinson, Reid Holaday, J. F. Webb, L. Adams, and L. R. ## CRESCUS IS LOST AND OWNER WORRIES

Champion Trotter and Ten Other Horses Belonging to Ketcham Are Missing.

TOLEDO, Dec. 15.—Cresceus, the champion trotter and holder of the world's trotting record of 2:02 1/4, is lost somewhere between Atlanta, Ga., and Cincinnati. According to his owner, George H. Ketcham, is worried, and it was he who first sounded the alarm of the missing horse. Also, in some unknown place, are ten other horses belonging to Mr. Ketcham, and which in all are valued at $200,000.

"The string left Atlanta, Ga., last Sunday afternoon," said Owner Ketcham, "and since then I have heard nothing of them. The bunch has not arrived in Cincinnati as yet. I suppose they are somewhere on some of the Southern roads leading through Kentucky, but I don't know and must admit that I am worried."
